Muhlenberg (2-4 West, 3-6) beat Wyomissing in an interdivision game after losing 14-0 at West Lawn in a West Division game earlier in the day.

The A's used four hits and two errors in their five-run inning, which erased a 3-0 deficit. Stewart finished 2-for-4 and Jantzen Linn was 2-for-5 for the A's.

Ryan Brobst struck out six on a three-hitter and went 3-for-4 at the plate as West Lawn remained unbeaten in the West with the intradivision win over the A's.

The Owls (9-0 West, 15-2) led 2-0 after 3½ innings before scoring a dozen times over their next three at-bats against to end the game after seven innings by the 12-run rule.

Joe Blackburn and James Geosits each went 2-for-3 with three runs and two RBIs and Andy Ernesto was 2-for-5 and scored twice.

■ Owls flying high: West Lawn averaged 19 runs per game over a recent four-game span started by a 26-6 victory over Reading High. The player with the most to hoot about in that stretch was outfielder James Geosits, who enjoyed a torrid 14-for-21 tear that included four triples, two doubles and 12 RBIs.

Blackburn's big stick is back in West Lawn

A year ago, heavy-hitting Joe Blackburn didn't even know if he'd be playing Legion ball again this summer. But he's playing, and producing, for the Owls.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

Joe Blackburn wondered if he had played his final American Legion baseball game last July.

When Blackburn and his West Lawn teammates walked off the field after a Berks playoff loss to Gregg Post, he figured there was a good chance he had donned the Owls uniform for the last time.

"I can remember sitting there and hearing (final-year players) Ben Reifsnnyder and Zach Williams getting the senior good-bye speech," Blackburn recalled. "And all the time I'm thinking, 'Am I going to come back or not?'"

Though the Penn State-bound Blackburn was eligible to play another year, he did not know whether he would be back until late this spring, when a dearth of spots in college summer leagues meant a return to West Lawn for Blackburn.

Which has been great news for the Owls, as last year's league batting champ has picked up right where he left off.

"How important is it to have him back?" West Lawn coach Tony Matz III said. "To say it's huge would be an understatement."

Huge would be a pretty good way to describe the numbers of the 6-4, 195-pound Blackburn. Through Friday's games, the first baseman was hitting .516 (33-for-64) with two home runs, five triples, 12 doubles, 29 RBIs, 35 runs and a .953 slugging percentage for the Owls (13-0, 20-2), who face defending Berks and Region 2 champion Boyertown tonight at Owls Field.

"I wouldn't necessarily consider him a home run hitter, especially playing at (spacious) Owls Field," Matz said. "That's because the balls he hits don't stay in the air long enough to go out. But they reach the fence as fast as anyone I've ever seen. He's that kind of hitter."

The right-hand-hitting Blackburn has displayed that kind of sweet stroke for the better part of his four-year Legion career.

In 2002 he advanced to the prestigious Pennsylvania East-West all-star game and workout.

Last year he hit .554 with four homers, 35 RBIs, 35 runs and a .969 slugging percentage.

This summer Blackburn's hit parade has continued from a highly productive three hole that has table-setters Andy Ernesto and Ricky Ziska in front of him and slugging James Geosits behind him.

"He's been very consistent," Matz said. "He may have one or two bad at-bats, but it isn't going to be four or five."

Blackburn played in 24

games and made seven starts this spring for Penn State (17-15 Big Ten, 28-29). Though his numbers weren't anything special — .182 with five RBIs and two runs in 33 at-bats — his memories were.

"I was actually happy with my playing time," he said. "I traveled with the team and went on every road trip. It was a great experience getting to see all of those places and playing teams like Miami and Arizona that made it to the College World Series."

The only bad experience Blackburn endured was suffering a late-season arm injury while double-clutching on a throw home from the outfield in a game against Michigan.

An MRI revealed a strained right biceps muscle, effectively ending the catching days of Blackburn, previously a mainstay behind the plate for the Owls.

But with Wilson catcher Drew Barnett taking over backstop duties, the Owls haven't missed a beat.

"If anything, it's helped my hitting," Blackburn said. "Playing the infield isn't as strenuous as catching. It's a slower game when you're not behind the plate. I was used to being in every play. But I guess playing first is the second-best place to be."

It's a position the first-rate talent has adjusted to with aplomb in his return to the Owls' nest.

Moatz and Matz make winners

Over 1,200 victories between them, Boyertown's Rick Moatz and West Lawn's Tony Matz guide two of the best programs in the Berks Legion League.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

Their last names are separated by one letter, their uniform numbers by a single digit.

The baseball resumes of Rick Moatz and Tony Matz have likewise been similar.

From their playing days as cerebral infielders to their current capacity as the two most successful coaches in the Berks Legion League, Moatz and Matz have had somewhat parallel paths.

Moatz (he wears No. 24, by the way), has been the Boyertown head coach for the last 17 years. Matz (No. 23) has been the head man at West Lawn for the last 18.

The two have combined for more than 1,200 wins and this summer have overseen the league's two glamour teams.

As the double-elimination Berks playoff tournament begins Thursday, Moatz's Bears (30-1) and Matz's Owls (27-4) appear to be on a championship-game collision course.

Rick Moatz a Bears infielder from 1972-75 who played under Dick Ludy, took over as Boyertown coach in 1988, after Dave Specht (Ludy's successor) guided the Bears to their second American Legion World Series title.

"I got into coaching because it was kind of a natural fit," said Moatz, who majored in health and physical education at East Stroudsburg. "Once I started coaching at Boyertown, it was kind of a situation where I didn't really put any time frame on it. With our organization and the way we get treated as coaches, it's just a lot easier to endure in this situation."

Instead of wilting under the heat, Moatz has maintained the program's tradition of excellence, which has endured for more than 35 years.

He led the Bears to a franchise-record 64 wins and a World Series appearance in his rookie campaign and has racked up seven state titles since.

Moatz, 47, takes a 772-199 career mark into Thursday's opener against Muhlenberg, the winningest record among a coaching legacy that includes men like Buck Rhoads and Ludy.

"I respected Dick Ludy immensely as a coach and as far as the amount of knowledge, basics and preparation he taught," Moatz said. "Dick was unmatched in being able to do that kind of thing."

"What I've tried to do along the way is pick up things from everybody. Buck Rhoads was one of the masters of innovation — he was always trying new things to get kids excited about playing. David was a master of being able to motivate and deal with players psychologically."

"I guess if you continue to learn and try to do things you've seen done well by others you can carry things on."

Carrying on, literally, is something Moatz doesn't do a whole lot of in the dugout. But there are times, according to center fielder and four-year performer Brian Ernst, that Moatz's fiery demeanor is on display.

"He wants you to improve, and he wants to win," Ernst said. "He can be a very intense coach, but he knows there's a time and place for it. He knows when somebody needs a good kick in the butt, and he knows when not to yell. I've been in his doghouse a couple times when we didn't agree on something, but by the next day we always worked it out."

"Rick's the kind of guy who will get in somebody's face, but will also be there to pat them on the back," said assistant Craig Eddinger, Moatz's right-hand man for all 17 years. "As a coach you have to be able to do both."

• • •
Tony Matz's managerial skills were honed at a pretty young age. Not as a 21-year-old rookie coach for West Lawn in 1987 or as an assistant the year before, but as a youngster playing APBA baseball, a strategic card/board game.

"That's how I guess I started to develop game management," Matz said. "You take guys in, put them out, relieve them."

Matz also had a love of the real kind of baseball, which he and his friends played "in the street, in the yard or at the school."

That passion was apparent when Matz played for West Lawn from 1982-83.

"Tony was the same kind of player that he is a coach now," said Mitch Hettinger, who coached West Lawn from 1980-85 and now serves as the team's business manager. "He was very smart. He knew the game. You could throw him out on the field and know he'd get the job done."

In the dugout Matz portrays a quiet confidence, preferring to let his players get the message by means other than fire and brimstone.

He guided West Lawn to the Berks playoffs in his first season, the best-of-three league semifinal series in his third, and the Berks final in his third. In 1991 the Owls won their first Berks title in 29 years. And since then, they've been a bona fide contender virtually every year.

"Do I yell at them from time to time?" he said. "Yeah, but it's few and far between. When I do yell at them, they know I mean everything I say and I'm not just blowing steam off. When I raise my voice they understand it's coming from the heart."

"Tony always sees something in each player," said Steve Caroll, an Owls assistant for the last 11 seasons. "No matter how off the wall it might seem at first, he has a knack for finding the right spot for a player."

His 1992 team waged a memorable eight-game battle with Boyertown that lasted into the state tournament. And the 1998-99 Owls won back-to-back Region 2 titles, culminating in a team-record 43 wins by the 1999 season, which finished third in the state tournament.

"The (Owls Club) organization rallied around Tony when they saw what they had," Hettlinger said. "He had a vision. He knew where he wanted to go with this, and look what's happened."

"I can't say I ever had goals starting out," said Matz. "I had no idea how many years I would be doing this. It just grew on me each year and I really enjoyed it, and it kind of snowballed."

During his playing career Tony Matz got a firsthand look at some of the best Boyertown teams, including the 1982 World Series team and the 1983 Series runner-up that beat the Owls in the Berks final.

And when he became coach, Matz put an emphasis on several of the Bears' staples — most notably the punting game.

The end result was a program several people referred to as "Boyertown West" and a long lasting rivalry matched on-ly by the Boyertown-Shillington battles of the past decade. "Rick annually has one of the best prepared teams," Matz said of Moatz. "I've never seen a Boyertown team play us and not be ready to play. I don't know if there's something about the Owls game that brings out the best in them, but they're always ready. "When you look at rivalries, it's very difficult to come up with any game that compares to our Boyertown-West Lawn games. It's just usually a different kind of game."

Third baseman Chris McDavid knocks in the go-ahead run in the eighth inning and makes two outstanding defensive plays for the Owls against Exeter.

By Darryl Grumling

Chris McDavid isn't usually the first player West Lawn opponents worry about.

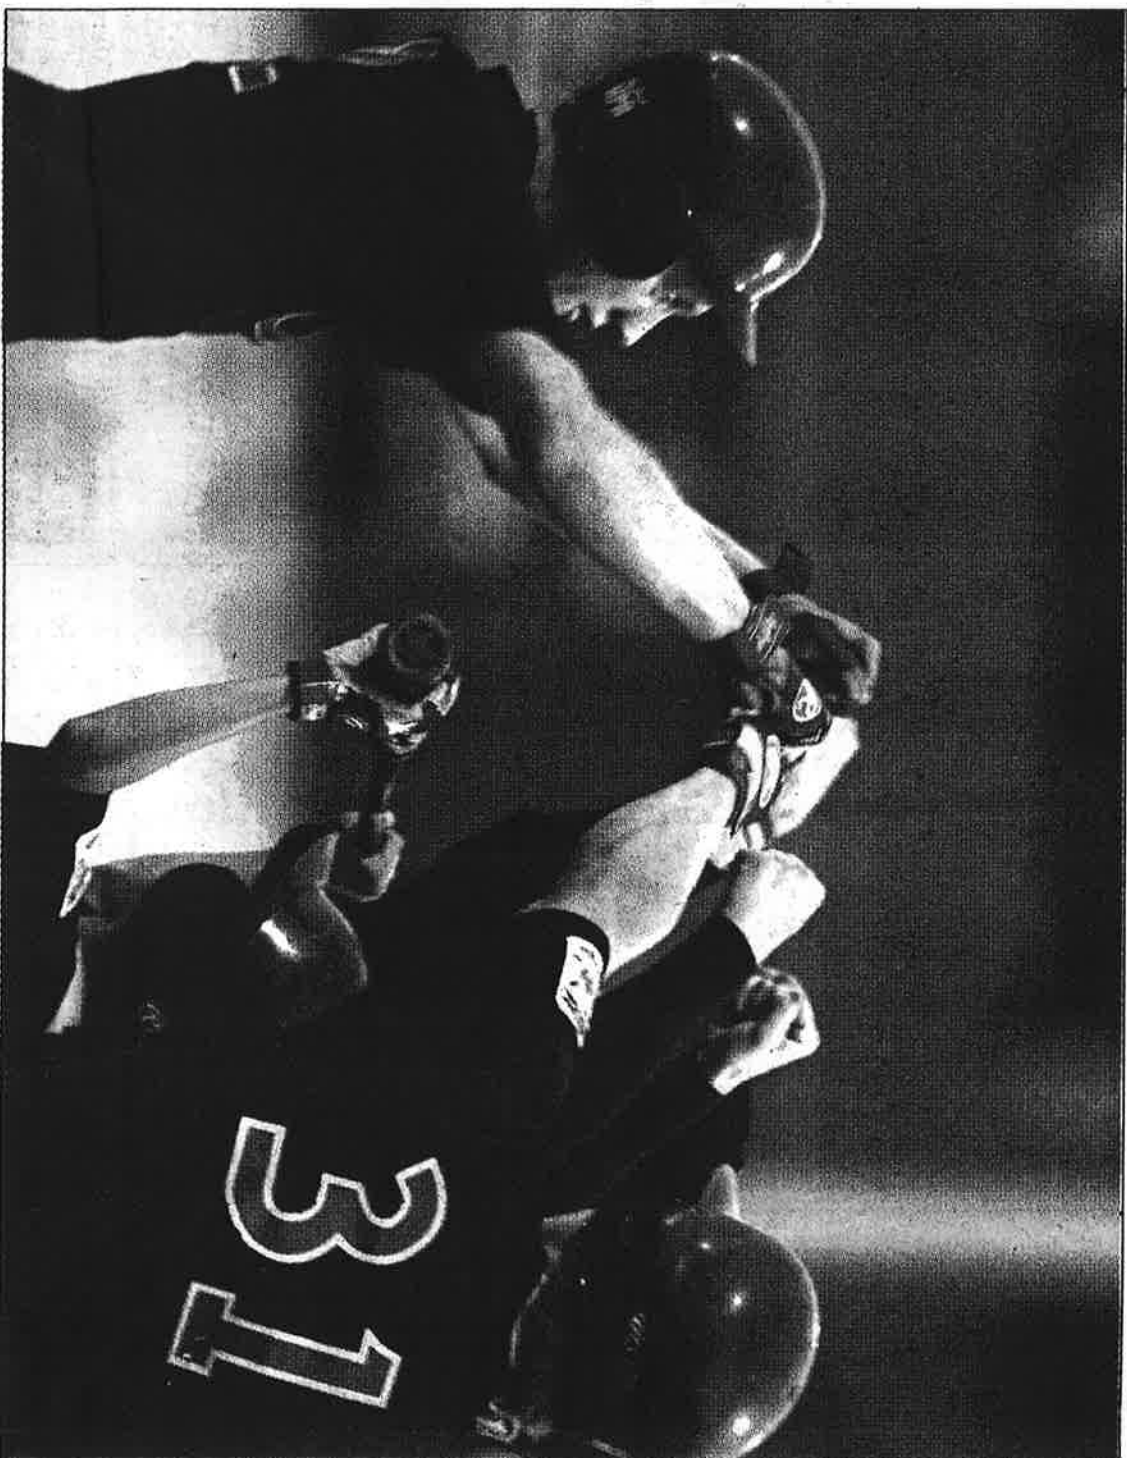

Thursday night at Owls Field, however, the guy his teammates call "C-Mac" came up clutch.

The 18-year-old third baseman had a night to hoot about as the Owls rallied to defeat Exeter 7-6 in a Berks Legion League Tournament opener.

McDavid went 2-for-2 with two runs and two RBIs, driving in the tying run and scoring the go-ahead run in the bottom of the eighth. Second seed West Lawn (28-4) advanced to tonight's winners bracket semifinal against third seed Shillington (18-4) at 7:05 at Owls Field.

If that's not enough, McDavid — who along with Exeter's Andrew Killinger (3-for-4) earned Reading Hot Stovers game MVP honors — was superb defensively.

Earlier in the eighth, he had turned Chris Fusco's one-out, one-on liner into a double play. Then with runners on first and second in the ninth, he deftly gathered in Rilly Harranff's

Earlier in the eighth, he had turned Chris Fusco's one-out, one-on liner into a double play. Then with runners on first and second in the ninth, he deftly gathered in Billy Hartranft's hard one-hopper for a game-ending force.

"In big games and playoff games, somebody has to step up," West Lawn coach Tony Matz III said. "And it's not always going to be one of the usual guys."

The "usual guys" for the Owls happen to be sluggers James Geosits and Joe Blackburn, who are league MVP candidates, and top-notch table-setters Rick Ziska and Andy Ernesto.

"When you think of West Lawn, you think of those guys," said McDavid, who bats eighth. "I just try to do my part."

After platooning most of the season, McDavid forced his way into the starting lineup scored from third as catcher Drew Barnett threw to first to retire Phil Rummel on a third strike in the dirt.

It stayed that way until the eighth, when Scott Hettinger drew a leadoff walk and took second on Dexter Jablonski's sacrifice. Jays coach Phil Racuglia then summoned Rummel — his top pitcher — to face McDavid.

"I was watching him warm up, and I saw he had a good slider and curve," McDavid said. "I just told myself I was going to hit that first pitch if it was in there. It looked good, and I took a hack at it."

McDavid's single to the gap in left-center scored Hettinger, and he took second on the throw. Two batters later, McDavid scored when Ziska reached on a two-out throwing error by shortstop Dillon Eppenstein — one of five by the Jays.

"It's hard to come up with words," said Racuglia, whose team visits Fleetwood for a 5 p.m. elimination game today. "We played a good ballgame. If you'd have told us we'd have a lead in the eighth, we'd take it. We were in a good spot."

"If you look at the scoreboard," McDavid said, "they should actually have won, except for the errors."

And McDavid.

Ziska pitches Owls past Sox

Rick Ziska throws a one-hitter to lead West Lawn past Shillington and into a winners bracket showdown with Boyertown in the Berks Legion tournament.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

Rick Ziska has had plenty of memorable moments on the soccer and football fields — where he was an All-Berks pick in both sports at Wilson High.

Friday night, the final-year player for West Lawn's Legion team enjoyed his finest moment on the baseball diamond.

Ziska fired a one-hitter as the Owls defeated Shillington 3-1 in a Berks playoff tournament winners bracket semifinal at Owls Field.

The right-hander struck out seven and escaped a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning to help second seed West Lawn (29-4) advance to tonight's winners bracket final against top seed Boyertown (32-1) at Owls Field at 7:05.

"Rick's been an important part of our team every year," West Lawn coach Tony Matz III said. "The thing is, every year he keeps maturing and getting better."

Ziska, in his third year with the Owls, starts at shortstop and is the team's leadoff hitter. On the mound, he is probably the team's second or third option.

"I'd say I'm a guy who tries to keep the ball over the plate, throw strikes and let the defense make the plays," said Ziska, who attends Lafayette College, where he is the starting kicker on the football team. "I'm not a real overpowering pitcher."

Ziska (6-1), who got the final two outs to save Thursday's first-round win over Exeter, didn't try to be against the potent lineup of the Red Sox (18-5). Mixing in a change-up for about one-third of his 130 pitches, he got 14 outs through the air — most of them easy pop-up and flyouts.

"He had us popping up all night," Shillington coach Steve Murray said. "Just a great pitching performance. This team hasn't been one-hit in a long time."

single runs in the first, third and sixth innings against Shillington starter Zach Lutz (5-2), who tried to gut it out after suffering a back injury on a swing in Thursday's first-round win over Fleetwood.

Andy Ernesto stole third and scored when catcher Jake Grauel's throw skipped into left field in the first, and Drew Barnett coolly laid down a two-strike squeeze to score Joe Blackburn in the third.

Dexter Jablonski delivered an RBI triple in the sixth to chase Lutz — who appeared to re-aggravate the injury when he lunged in an attempt to field Barnett's infield single earlier in the frame.

"Sometimes when the captain goes down you have to rally around him," said Murray, who had to take Lutz out of the game and was unsure of his status for today's 12:05 p.m. elimination game against Hamburg.

The Red Sox did that in the late going, as Jason Zeigler broke up Ziska's no-hit bid with a lead-off double in the seventh and Jason Dunkelberger broke up the shutout with a sacrifice fly.

Then in the eighth, a miscommunication between outfielders Andy Ernesto and James Geosits turned Austin Hoffert's one-out fly to right-center into a two-base error.

Two walks later, the Red Sox had them loaded with one out, but Ziska struck out Andrew Maier (in Lutz's spot) on three pitches before getting Zeigler to ground to second for an inning-ending force.

"I just tried to stay calm and keep my focus on the next pitch," he said.

And pitched in prominently for the second straight night.

Boyertown fights back West Lawn

The Bears answer whenever the Owls get close and earn a berth in the Berks Legion League playoff tournament title game.

By Darryl Grumling

West Lawn effectively peppered Boyertown with jabs Saturday night.

Unfortunately for the Owls, the Bears responded with heavy counterpunching in the Berks Legion League playoff tournament winners bracket final.

Twice, when West Lawn appeared to have Boyertown on the ropes, the Bears connected with a couple of haymakers of their own to seal a 12-5 victory at Owls Field.

"That's a big thing," Boyertown coach Rick Moatz said. "It's something good teams always do: answer when somebody starts to get some momentum. It was crucial for us tonight."

■ Hamburg beats Shillington; Exeter stuns Top-ton. D8

In the fifth inning, when the Owls scored twice to get within a run, the Bears came right back with two in their half.

And in the sixth, with West Lawn still within striking distance at 6-4, Boyertown delivered a knockout six-spot highlighted by Matt Cotellese's RBI triple.

"We just wanted to keep hitting tonight," said Cotellese, who drove in three runs. "We hadn't scored that many runs (14) the first couple (playoff) games."

The top-seeded Bears (33-1), the lone remaining unbeaten in the double-elimination tourney, face seventh seed Exeter (26-17) today at Owls Field at approximately 2 p.m. The second-seeded Owls (29-5) will take on No. 5 seed Hamburg (14-13) in the 11 a.m. elimination game opener.

Today's games, originally scheduled for 3:35 and 7:05, were moved up due to the forecast of heavy rain.

Boyertown took the lead from the outset, getting two unearned runs in a first inning capped by Mike Ziemak's two-run single. Then Adam Tsakonas doubled in a run and Cotellese had a sacrifice fly in the third to make it 4-0.

But West Lawn chipped away at starter Brad Unger (6-0), and when James Geosits delivered an RBI single in the fifth, the Owls were within 4-3.

"We thought we were starting to make it a game," West Lawn coach Tony Matz III said. "It just came down to us not having a pitching performance that could shut them down."

Boyertown answered in its half on sacrifice flies by Cotellese and Ziemak. Then, after the Owls closed within 6-4 on Chris McDavid's RBI single in the sixth, the Bears batted around in their half to chase starter Dexter Jablonski (5-1).

"Dexter didn't pitch that bad," Matz said. "But the good pitches he threw were just missing and the bad pitches were getting too much of the plate. And against them, you can't afford to throw good strikes."

Ziemak went 3-for-4 with four RBIs to highlight at 16-hit attack for the defending Berks champ Bears, who earned a spot in the title game — either Monday or Tuesday.

"The kids were a little more aggressive at the plate tonight," said Moatz, who also got multi-hit games from Ryan Arcadia (3-for-5, two runs), Chad Mackey (2-for-5, two runs, two RBIs) and Tsakonas (2-for-3, two runs, two RBIs). "We had some real good at-bats, and hit some real shots, and that was the difference."

Batterymates help keep the Owls going

Pitcher Josh Smith and his personal catcher, Joe Blackburn, lead West Lawn past Hamburg in a tournament elimination game.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

Steve Carlton had Tim McCarver.
Greg Maddux had Eddie Perez.
And on West Lawn's Legion team, Josh Smith has Joe Blackburn.

Smith, the Owls' promising 15-year-old right-hander, has his own personal catcher in the 18-year-old Blackburn, a four-year starter.

West Lawn 5
Hamburg 1

Boyertown 29
Exeter 9
6 innings

It's an arrangement that's clicked for West Lawn since midseason, and one that was again successful in Monday's Berks Legion League playoff tournament elimination game against Hamburg.

Smith, in the most important start of his career, threw seven strong innings as the Owls defeated Hamburg 5-1 to earn a spot in tonight's 7:05 championship round against Boyertown.

West Lawn also clinched a berth into next week's Pennsylvania's Region 2 Tournament after Boyertown (34-1) eliminated Exeter 29-9 in a game halted in the sixth inning. Both teams agreed to not finish the game after the second of two lightning delays.

"I was a little nervous," said Smith, who was planning on playing Junior Legion ball in the spring but was promoted just prior to the season. "But I knew I had to go out there and get the job done."

Smith (6-1) got it done against the Reds (14-14) by combining his fastball with a sweeping curve. He struck out five and allowed six hits before turning it over to relievers Marc Hampson and Rick Ziska, who pitched one inning each.

Smith also got some help from Blackburn, who called the pitches, something normally done by assistant coach Steve Carroll.

"Josh is a young kid with a lot of potential," Blackburn said. "He just needs someone out there on the field to guide him. He's thrown well for us before, so there was no reason to doubt him. He gave us more than enough tonight."

Smith has been giving the Owls quality innings since coach Tony Matz III put Blackburn, no longer the starting catcher due to an arm injury suffered during his freshman season at Penn State, behind the plate for Smith's non-league start against Plum July 2.

"The first game we put them together, Josh went out and struck out like 10 batters in five innings," Matz said. "From that game on, we just said any game he pitches, we're going to catch Joe. We thought, let's try that matchup with Joe's seniority and leadership and Josh being 15."

"Throwing him in a situation like this was a little bit of a so-called gamble, but since the early part of July, he's pitched very well."

West Lawn got Smith some run support on Drew Barnett's RBI groundout in the fourth and James Geosits' RBI triple and Barnett's squeeze in the sixth.

The Reds got on the board on the seventh, when Kyle Breidenstine drew a bases-loaded walk with two outs. Then in the eighth, they put runners on first and second with nobody out before Hampson got two strikeouts and a line-out.

"We come up with a base hit in either one of those situations, and it's an entirely different game," said Hamburg coach Jeff Seidel, whose team stranded 13 runners. "This might have been our best game defensively, and we had a solid pitching effort. We just didn't have the key hits."

Chris McDavid went 3-for-4 and Geosits was 2-for-4 with two RBIs for West Lawn, which defeated Hamburg for the third time this season.

"My teammates have been very good to me, helping me out and everything," Smith said. "Plus, not many guys get their own catcher."

In the second game, Adam Tsakonas hit of the cycle and drove in six runs, and Brian Ernst was 5-for-6 with seven RBIs to lead the Bears.

Boyertown erased an early 9-3 deficit with 26 unanswered runs.

Bears break it open, capture title

For most of the night, Ryan Brobst held strong against the raging tide.

Brobst, West Lawn's ace right-hander, successfully navigated the treacherous waters of Boyertown's dangerous lineup

Boyertown 9
West Lawn 4
for more than seven innings of Tuesday's Berks Legion League championship at Owls Field.

Just when it appeared land — namely a breakthrough victory — was in sight, though, an untimely mistake sunk the Owls' title hopes.

Boyertown, given new life by a two-out error, scored five unearned runs in the bottom of the eighth to break open a two-run lead en route to a 9-4 victory.

Gary Hessler threw seven strong innings and Mike Ziemak hit the go-ahead sacrifice fly in a two-run sixth for the Bears (35-1), who matched Gregg Post's record 27 Berks crowns.

This one, however, was a lot closer than the finally score indicated.

Thanks to a gritty effort from Brobst, the Owls (30-6) were within 4-2 and one out away from a potentially dramatic ninth inning, with the heart of their order due up.

But with nobody on, first baseman Joe Blackburn couldn't handle Ziemak's high foul pop for what was scored an error.

Ziemak then singled to set in motion a back-breaking barrage that included an RBI double by Brad Unger, run-scoring singles by Kurt Houck and West Lawn pitcher Ryan Brobst keeps the Owls close, but Boyertown erupts for five runs in the eighth to pull away and win its 27th league championship.

Ryan Arcadia, and an RBI triple by Chad Mackey (3-for-5, two triples) that made it 9-2.

"With our offense, it's just a matter of time before we start putting up some runs," said third baseman Adam Tsakonas, who went 1-for-2 with an RBI triple to close out a tourney in which he hit .667 (10-for-15). "You have to give a lot of credit to Brobst. He held us in check most of the game. But like I said, with us, it's just a matter of time."

"We've been pretty clutch with two outs this year," Boyertown coach Rick Moatz said. "I think that's a real good indication of the strength of our lineup."

West Lawn wound up getting two runs off reliever Houck in the ninth on an RBI double by James Geosits (2-for-4, two runs) and an RBI single by Drew Barnett (2-for-4, two RBIs), leaving coach Tony Matz III to wonder what could have been.

"That's twice now that Ryan's pitched as good as he could against them," said Matz, referring to a 3-1 regular season loss. "We needed to make one more play and get one more out. Even if it ends 4-2, we could have walked out of here on a little bit of a high. It's just very difficult to play a perfect game against a team as good as they are."

Hessler (10-0), a righty and the No. 3 starter, struck out five, didn't walk a batter and allowed six hits and two runs before turning it over to Houck.

West Lawn broke a 1-1 tie on an RBI single by Rick Ziska (3-for-4) in the sixth, but Matt Cotellese tripled in a run and scored on Ziemak's sacrifice fly in the bottom half to put the Bears up to stay.

Both teams advance to next week's Pennsylvania Region 2 Tournament at Easton, which begins Tuesday. The defending champ Bears face the Northampton League champ at 9:45 a.m., with the Owls taking on the Lehigh Valley No. 1 seed at 4 p.m.

LEGION | Cotellese, Geosits lead teams into region tourney

Cotellese, who has a .554 on-base percentage, also excels on the basepaths. He's been caught stealing just once.

"His baserunning ability is uncanny," Moatz said.

As is his play in an all-star outfield that includes center fielder Brian Ernst and left fielder Chad Mackey.

"You usually don't see a lot of balls drop between us," said Cotellese, who will play at West Chester next year. "Our pitchers tell us it seems like we get to everything."

The 6-3, 208-pound Geosits can also track them down in right, something he showed in last week's Berks championship when he turned what looked to be a sure extra-base hit by Mike Ziemak into a sacrifice fly on a stellar over-the-shoulder catch after a long run.

"Physically speaking, nobody's had that combination of size, strength and speed for me," said Owls coach Tony Matz III, in his 18th season. "He is, as we like to call him, a 'man-child.'"

Geosits, in his second year with the Owls, has definitely been the man out of the cleanup spot. Hitting behind the productive top three of Andy Ernesto, Rick Ziska and Joe Blackburn, he has an .898 slugging percentage that includes 11 triples and six doubles.

"It's a huge advantage to have guys like that in front of you," said Geosits, who will play at the College of Charleston next year. "Those three are unbelievable. Ernesto and Ricky are basically on every time, and Blackburn usually finishes the job. Sometimes it just seems like the whole team is clicking."

Things finally started to click for Geosits this year after he suffered through injury-plagued sophomore and junior seasons playing baseball and football. Last fall, he had a breakthrough season in football for Wilson, evolving into Chad Henne's go-to guy as a tight end/wideout.

In the spring, Geosits hit a team-high .445 for the Bulldogs, and this summer his numbers have continued to heat up.

"Last year he possessed power, but it wasn't consistent power," Matz said. "He would occasionally hit with authority; now, it's constant authority. He wants to hit. He doesn't care what the situation is. When he comes to the plate, he's ready."

This week, opponents had better be ready for Geosits and Cotellese, as they try to continue their hot summers.

Bears' Cotellese, Owls' Geosits blessed with all-around talent

Matt Cotellese and James Geosits, who excel at the plate and in the field, have led their teams into the Pennsylvania Region 2 Tournament.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

Their bats have turned out more heavy metal hits than Guns N' Roses.

On the field, they possess as many tools as a Black & Decker store.

And this week, the tremendous talent of Boyertown's Matt Cotellese and West Lawn's James Geosits will be on display in the Pennsylvania Region 2 Tournament, which begins Tuesday at Easton's Hackett Park.

Cotellese and Geosits, both 18-year-old right fielders, have enjoyed monster offensive seasons.

Cotellese has a .467 average, 48 runs, 42 RBIs and 39 stolen bases for Berks champion Boyertown (37-1), which opens defense of its Region 2 crown in a 9:45 a.m. opener against The Birches. Geosits is hitting .512 with seven homers and 62 RBIs for the Owls (31-6), who meet Lower Merion at 4:05 p.m.

But there's a lot more to the potent pair than those impressive numbers.

The 6-1, 190-pound Cotellese, who participated in the Pennsylvania East-West all-star game and workout over the weekend, is just as valuable on defense, thanks to his blazing speed and rocket arm.

"He's a total weapon," Boyertown coach Rick Moatz said. "With his all-around ability, the way he can run, throw, hit and field, he is unquestionably the best outfielder we've ever had at Boyertown."

Cotellese, in his third year as a starter, had a reputation as a streak hitter heading into this season. So in the offseason, he made it a point to gear down his swing, and now (hitting fifth) is one of the most consistent performers in a loaded lineup.

"Last year I was probably more of a power hitter," said Cotellese, who has one homer after hitting eight last season. "This year, I'm hitting a lot more line drives. You don't have to hit homers to score runs."

Ziska gets Owls off to good start

West Lawn's Ricky Ziska goes the distance and strikes out seven in an easy victory over Lower Macungie.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

EASTON — West Lawn might be located more than 50 miles from Easton.

But for Rick Ziska, the Owls' Pennsylvania Region 2 League Tournament opener at Hacketts Park was practically a home game.

Ziska attends nearby Lafayette College, where he is a placekicker on the football team.

And Wednesday night, the final-year player helped West Lawn kick off the tourney with a 13-2 victory over Lower Macungie in a contest that wound up being completed in a downpour.

Ziska struck out seven in a complete-game eight-hitter as Berks No. 2 seed West Lawn (32-6) advanced to today's winners bracket semifinal.

The Owls face the winner of the first-round game between Schuylkill champ Valley View and host Easton, which was postponed until this morning at 9 at Hacketts Park, at approximately 7:30 p.m. at Hacketts Park.

The way Ziska performed in the Berks playoffs, it was crystal clear to West Lawn coach Tony Matz III who was going to get the ball against the Lehigh Valley League champion Mighty Macs (26-6).

Ziska had thrown a one-hitter against Shillington and closed out two other wins. And in his first taste of state regional, the right-hander didn't disappoint.

Once again featuring a tricky change to go along with a deceptively effective fastball, Ziska (7-1) kept Lower Macungie guessing much of the night.

"I just tried to go out and do my job," Ziska said. "Try and keep them off-balance. My fastball's not that overpowering, so

Ricky Ziska strikes out 7

Andy Ernesto goes 4-for-6

I try to throw the change and then sneak the fastball by them. "I actually don't think I threw my best game tonight. I left a couple pitches up that they got a hold of, but we got a lot of run support to make things easier."

The Owls lineup, which didn't quite hit on all cylinders in the Berks playoffs, pounded out 21 hits. Seven players had two or more hits.

Leadoff man Andy Ernesto was 4-for-6 with two doubles, three runs and three RBIs; Joe Blackburn was 3-for-3 with two runs and two RBIs; Scott Hettinger was 3-for-5 with three RBIs; and Chris McDavid was 3-for-4 with two runs.

"It was good to get the bats going when you need them the most — playoff time," Ziska said.

West Lawn began to get it going in the second, when 15-year-old Josh Smith roped an RBI single. Hettinger had a sacrifice fly in the third and an RBI single to cap a three-run fourth that made it 5-0.

"It's always important to break the ice first," Matz said. "Then we kept scoring — whether it was one at a time or more — as the game went on, and I think it was somewhat demoralizing for them."

Ziska took a shutout into the sixth and was cruising heading into the ninth. The only question — due to a thunderstorm that rumbled through in the ninth inning — was whether the game would be completed. But after the Owls sent 10 men to the plate in their five-run half, Ziska set three pinch hitters down in order.

"I just hopped out there on the mound and tried to get it over with as fast as I could," said Ziska.

And looked right at home in doing so.

A too-sudden finish for Owls

The morning after a stunning loss to Valley View, West Lawn is punchless during a lopsided elimination loss to The Birches.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

EASTON — Joe Blackburn and his West Lawn Legion teammates fully expected to be facing Boyertown Friday for a spot in the Pennsylvania Region 2 Tournament championship game.

Instead, the Owls wound up dealing with the reality of the end of their season.

In a game that started a little more than 10 hours after Thursday night's stunning winners bracket semifinal loss to Valley View, the Owls couldn't muster any momentum in a 13-2 elimination loss to The Birches at Hacketts Park.

Virtually nothing went right for the Owls (33-8) in a miserable morning in which they committed seven errors while Northampton League champ The Birches (31-3) ripped 16 hits.

"Momentum is huge in these tournaments," Blackburn said. "Shifts here and there can change the whole game."

Emotion is also huge in tournament play, and the Owls never seemed to recover from Thursday night's 3-2 defeat to Valley View. After banging out 21 hits in a 13-2 first-round victory over Lower Macungie, West Lawn managed just six against the West Enders Thursday.

"That really took the wind of our sails," Blackburn said.

The more than 100-mile round trip for Friday's 9 a.m. start couldn't have helped either, and might have partially explained The Birches jumping on the Owls with a four-run first aided by two errors.

West Lawn got within 4-2 in the third on back-to-back sacrifice flies by Rick Ziska and Blackburn. But The Birches — who have won six games with their season on the line over the past two weeks — answered right back with three in their fourth, and things gradually deteriorated from there.

"We know what it's like to be in this position," Birches coach T.J. Murphy said. "We've been there and done it before. Anytime you can come out and jump on somebody in a game like this, it's going to bode well for you."

On the other hand, not a whole lot seemed to bode well for the Owls. They hit into three double plays — two on line drives — and the 13 runs allowed was their second-highest total of the season.

"What can you say?" West Lawn coach Tony Matz III said. "We gave up four runs right off the bat in the first inning, and after having to fight back last night, that's not the way you want to start."

Righty Tim Bremen threw six innings of five-hit ball for the win, leadoff man Kyle Rhoades was 3-for-4 and Joe Andrews drove in three runs for The Birches.

"It wasn't that we were overconfident or anything after the first round," Matz said. "We just ran into a pitcher who carried his team, and then today we ran into a good team that hit the ball well."

The Owls lose only Blackburn and Ziska from their squad and should be in position to bounce back next season, when they host the state tournament.

"Our kids had a very good season," Matz said. "We've basically played the last six weeks with less than 14 players, and those kids did an outstanding job."

Boyertown clinches Berks, Region 2, state and Mid-Atlantic championships en route to its return to the American Legion World Series.

By Darryl Grumling
Reading Eagle

Bear season lasted virtually all summer as Boyertown dominated the headlines in the Berks Legion League. A final look at the league campaign, from A to Z:

A is for all-stars, as in the four league players — Boyertown's Matt Cotellesse and Ryan Arcadia, Shillington's Zach Lutz and Muhlenberg's Rick Stewart — who advanced to the prestigious Pennsylvania East-West Classic at Harrisburg.

B is for the Boyertown Bears, who woke up the echoes of their storied past in a memorable 54-4 season that culminated in their first Legion World Series appearance in 16 years.

C is for championships, where Boyertown cornered the market. The Bears beat West Lawn 9-4 for their 27th Berks crown; Warrington 8-2 for their record 17th Region 2 title; State College 10-0 for their record 18th state title; and Chester, N.J., 4-1 for their eighth Mid-Atlantic national regional crown.

D is for division titles. Topton (North) won its first in team history, and Schuylkill Valley (South) won its second in its 30-year history.

E is for Exeter, which under popular coach Phil Racuglia (who resigned at the end of the season to take an assistant position at Kutztown University) continued its Berks playoff consistency by reaching the league tourney's final four for the sixth straight season.

F is for Fritz, Hamburg catcher Travis, who hit for the cycle in a 27-9 win over Wyomissing.

G is for Gary Hessler, Boyertown's unsung third starter who led the team in victories with 14, including the decision in the Berks title victory over West Lawn.

H is for home runs. Boyertown's Adam Tsakonas hit five of his six round-trippers in the post-season, including a couple of tape-measure shots at Owls Field (against Exeter in the Berks playoffs) and Bear Stadium (in a Mid-Atlantic tournament championship-round win over Chester, N.J.).

I is for injuries, which contributed greatly to Birdsboro missing the Berks playoffs for the first time since 1995. Pitchers Kevin Lengyel, Joe Harris and Joe DeFrank each missed time with ailments.

J is for James and Joe, Geosits and Blackburn, West Lawn's slugging third and fourth hitters. Cleanup man Geosits hit .493 with seven homers, 11 triples and 64 RBIs in 32 games; Blackburn hit .470 with three homers, 12 triples, 17 doubles and 50 RBIs.

K is short for strikeout. Shillington's Zach Lutz had 14 in an eight-inning win over Gregg Post; Boyertown's Kurt Houck racked up 106 in 109 1/3 innings for the season.

L is for the Legion World Series, where Boyertown advanced for the first time since 1988 and eighth time in team history.

M is for managers Rick Moatz of Boyertown and Tony Matz III of West Lawn. Moatz, who will enter next season four wins shy of 800, led the Bears their second-best season in history in terms of winning percentage. Matz, who picked up his 500th win this season, led the Owls to their seventh division title in 12 years, their eighth Berks title-game appearance in 15 seasons and their fifth Region 2 appearance.

N is for no-hitter, which Shillington's Jason Zeigler and Matt Konnick combined on in a 12-0, eight-inning victory over Fleetwood in a Berks playoff tournament opener.

O is for outfield, where rifle-armed right fielder Matt Cotellesse, center fielder Brian Ernst and left fielder Chad Mackey made up arguably the best in the storied history of Boyertown.

P is for promise, which Wyomissing and Conrad Weiser showed at times during rough seasons. Wyomissing — with the 16-year-old quartet of Brian Benusa, Doug Coughlin, Brett Heffner and Julian Ducheine — won its final two games after a 1-15 start. Weiser, coached by former major leaguer Rich DeLucia, hung in gamely in the wild card race before losing their final six games.

Q is for quality facilities. Kutztown added to the league's list with the dedication of Timothy M. Breidegam Field. The new-look field includes lights and other major field improve-ing made key contributions.

Z is for Ziska, West Lawn right-hander Ricky, who came up big in the post-season. The right-hander finished two victories and also threw a one-hitter in a 3-1 Berks winners bracket semifinal victory over Shillington, then used his crafty changeup to go the route in a 13-2 Region 2 first-round win over Lower Macungie.

league campaign.

W is for West Lawn, which will host the 2005 Pennsylvania State Tournament. Boyertown, by the way, is hosting next year's Region 2 tourney.

X is the notation for not batting in the bottom of the ninth, which Boyertown accomplished in all but five games.

Y is for youth. Fifteen-year-olds Josh Smith of West Lawn, Jordan Cannon of Exeter and Andrew Schrack of Conrad Weiser, along with 16-year-olds Ian Roth and Mike Bucklin of Shillington, Kyle Moser of Topton and Joe Pietrobone of Read-bound Houck, who was drafted by the Atlanta Braves in the 30th round in June, went 12-1 with a 2.72 ERA. The 6-9 Unger, who is headed to Harvard, compiled a 13-0 mark with a 2.15 ERA.

U is for umpires. Berks umps Mike Kauffman and Ron Perry worked the Mid-Atlantic National Region 2 Tournament, and Rick Mistifer and Bob Trainer worked the Pennsylvania Region 2 tourney.

V is for victories. Boyertown has 42 in a row in league play after going 18-0 to close out its second straight unbeaten ments such as an electronic scoreboard, new dugouts and a press box/concession stand.

R is for Region 2. The Berks League continued to dominate this season with Boyertown's record 17th crown, the 24th overall by Berks, which has placed a team in the tourney final in all 30 years.

S is for stolen bases. Boyertown racked up 301, including a team-high 59 by Matt Cotellesse.

T is for the twin towers of Boyertown, right-handed coaches Kurt Houck and Brad Unger. The 6-6, James Madison-
